Joy and Peace in Believing

Sometimes a light surprises, the Christian while he sings;
It is the Lord who rises, with healing in his wings:
When comforts are declining, he grants the soul again
A season of clear shining, to cheer it after rain.

In holy contemplation, we sweetly then pursue
The theme of God's salvation, and find it ever new:
Set free from present sorrow, we cheerfully can say,
E'en let th' unknown to-morrow, bring with it what it may.

It can bring with it nothing, but he will bear us through;
Who gives the lilies clothing, ill clothe his people too:
Beneath the spreading heavens, no creature but is fed;
And he who feeds the ravens, will give his children bread.

Though vine nor fig-tree neither, their wonted fruit shall bear,
Though all the field should wither, nor flocks nor herds be there:

Yet God the same abiding, his praise shall tune my voice;
For while in him confiding, I cannot but rejoice.

This poem is by John Newton who also wrote the well-known and well-loved hymn, Amazing Grace. It seems most appropriate to share because of Newton's life story. In short Newton was a sailor who was jailed and flogged for insubordination. He was known as a person of moral abandon who "made it my life to tempt and seduce others." One day Newton's slave ship got caught in a storm. The storm was severe and caused Newton to pray to God. Newton's prayer bore the fruit of his conversion to Christianity. He eventually retired from the slave trade and became an Anglican minister and served in the ministry until his passing.

Newton's life and world were full of the experience of abuse, prejudice, poverty, violence, immorality and fear. In the midst of these circumstances, he wrote not only hymns, but also poetry. Instead of being defined by the difficult world around him, Newton, who experienced so much of the difficult side of life, decided to make things like hope, help, redemption and joy his focuses in life.

It may at times seem like our world or culture today is rife with negative emotion, anxiety, fear and violence. Unfortunately, these characteristics of life have been a part of life for a long time. Newton could have simply gotten angry or become apathetic to the plight of others in the midst of the challenges he experienced. Instead, he chose to see not through his own eyes, but through God's eyes. As such, even in the most trying moments in life, he was defined not by his external circumstance, by the God inside of him.

God is our ever-present source of joy, love, grace and hope. May we, in this Lenten season and in all circumstances, hold to this God who is always with us and in us. In Him may we always look to shine light in the dark places of life and believe that in the best and worst of times there is always joy!

Southern Hospitality.....

Invitations to parties and special events make us feel good. Even if we are unable to attend we all want to be invited. Jesus gives us a standing invitation, in the gospel of Matthew 11:28 he said "come to me all you who are weary and carrying heavy burdens and I will give you rest". Who would pass up on an invitation like this?

I have learned the blessing of true southern hospitality, which includes: when invited somewhere you should never show up empty handed. "That's only proper after all" – or so I have been told. And so, I always make it a point when attending parties, to arrive with a small token in hand for the hosts. The amazing thing about God's invitation is that we do not have to bring a thing. In fact, we actually get to trade our burdens for his blessings. We leave our troubles for the treasures of the Lord.

Philadelphia has the unique opportunity to extend that invitation from Jesus Christ. We have two amazing worship opportunities, (The Journey and The Sanctuary services), the Poor Man's Supper, Wonderful Wednesday, and a variety of Sunday School classes, just to name a few things. The best part is that folks can come as they are, even if they are weary from the expectations of life and carrying the stresses of the world. Better yet, they can exchange them for the joy and love of Jesus.

The greatest invitation we will ever receive, the greatest invitation we can ever extend to anyone else is the one that Jesus makes to us - everyday. I hope that you are sharing the love of Jesus. It's as simple as letting the light of Christ shine through you and inviting someone to the Poor Man's Supper and buying their dinner, encourage them to have their youth check out our youth programs, sharing about the AWESOMENESS of Kingdom Kids and the Eggstravaganza, or letting them know about our two worship services. Show folks some great southern hospitality. Most importantly, be sure you tell them, the only thing they need to bring is themselves.

Blessing,

Katie

The Prayer Shawl Ministry celebrated Valentine's Day by blessing our 500th shawl in 3-1/2 years of existence. Since it takes at least 25 hours to make one shawl by our fastest knitter using the fastest method possible, that totals at least 12,500 hours of knitting, sewing, or crocheting and a countless number of stitches and prayers. For those of you who like averages, that's about one shawl produced every three days!

We hear story upon story of how appreciative the recipients are for the shawls and the follow up notes we send (if the address is known) which provide a tangible reminder that they are being prayed for and are not forgotten in times of stress and upheaval in their lives. We've received cards like the one stating the shawl and the note gave someone renewed faith in God and His healing ability. We were able to recently fulfill a request to send two shawls to a prison ministry which requested shawls for the families of death row inmates. At least once per year, the Stephen Ministers provide the RITI neighbors with small shawls to help keep them warm. Approximately half of the shawls are distributed to PPC members and half to others in the community and wider family of faith who could use our prayers and support. No thanks are required but we do tear up from the heartwarming notes we often receive!

If you know of someone with a need, please pass the word to the Stephen Ministers, Deacons, or shawl creators. Those on the nursing home list, high school and college graduates in the past three years, and many on the prayer list have already received shawls. Distribution is controlled only to prevent multiple shawls from being presented to the same recipient because we NEVER are able to build up a ready supply of shawls!

The shawl creation process is simple – as they are stitching, the shawl creators pray for the future recipient and pray that the completed shawl provide them God's peace and comfort. The shawls are approximately 5-6 ft. x 2 ft. and can be made by any pattern, by any stitch, and in any color. Some of the most interesting shawls are made from combined scraps from other projects! Once the shawl is completed, the Stephen Ministers provide a final blessing and a special bag which includes an explanation of the Shawl Ministry and the prayers/blessings associated with the shawls.

Please check out our closet near the Heritage Room for supplies where we have yarn, crochet hooks, and knitting needles and please PLEASE take what you need to make a shawl. We meet on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday nights of most months from 7:00pm to approximately 8:00pm in the Fred Brown classroom. The group includes expert stitchers who will be able to help if you have a question. There is no requirement to come to the meetings to participate in this ministry, but we would love to have you!

Special thanks go to everyone involved in making shawls from those who are struggling to learn to knit on their first shawl to the experienced stitchers who have produced many shawls. We also appreciate the efforts of the Pastors, Stephen Ministers, and Deacons who often deliver the shawls. Thank you all for being a blessing to others!

Contact Cindi Hoffner at 704-488-3027 if you have any questions.
